

Winning Writers Announces the Winners of the Tenth Annual North Street Book Prize

\(Full release at this link\)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Feb. 17, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- Winning Writers is pleased to announce the results from its tenth annual North Street Book Prize. This contest recognizes the best books being self-published or hybrid-published today. 1,930 books were received from around the world.

- Bryan Wiggins of Cape Elizabeth, Maine won First Prize in Genre Fiction for his medical thriller The Corpse Bloom. Written with expert consultation from neurosurgeon Dr. Lee Thibodeau, this novel plunges a Boston transplant surgeon into high-stakes ethical dilemmas involving colonialism, unequal access to healthcare, and murder in rural Mexico.

The category winners each received $1,000, a marketing analysis and one-hour phone consultation with Carolyn Howard-Johnson, a $500 credit at BookBaby, three months of Plus service from Book Award Pro (a $207 value), design for a custom merchandise item based on the winner's book cover from Laura Duffy Design, and one free ad in the Winning Writers newsletter (a $175 value); the winning children's picture book author also received a phone consultation from April Cox at Self-Publishing Made Simple (a $289 value) and access to Authorpreneur Summit sessions (an $89 value).

About the Contest:

The judges' remarks and excerpts from the winning entries are published at winningwriters.com. $21,000 was awarded in all, making this one of the world's most generous contests for self-published and hybrid-published books. This contest is distinguished by its relatively low entry fee compared to the prizes awarded, the substantial benefits provided by the co-sponsors, the feedback provided for all entries submitted online, and its clear-eyed public critiques of winning entries, unafraid to suggest where a great book could have been even better.

Contact: Adam Cohen, Winning Writers, 389651@email4pr.com

bryan@brywig.com 207-799-2918 6 Highview Road, Cape Elizabeth, ME 04017